

Kraainem site comes back to life thanks to Team Sport Educ

The Kraainem site, which hosted the Red Devils for years, is coming back to life. Yes, Kraainem will come back to life. After having been for many years the stronghold of the Red Devils for their training, the site had been a little neglected. But good news: an ASBL, Team Sport Educ. It is an association offering various types of training courses and sports activities for educational purposes. The courses will take place at the Kraainem Sport & Event Village, a former Red Devils training complex.

© photonews

The courses are offered by qualified instructors, with quality training, specialized in sport. These will supervise your children in a friendly atmosphere and with professional supervision. The team is made up of physical education teachers, qualified instructors in their specific field, specialized educators and psychomotor therapists. Professional footballers, such as Benjamin Mokulu or Benjamin Lambot, will come to bring their experience to the little darlings.

Outside of internship periods, the ASBL will offer intensive sessions for the progression and physical improvement of athletes.

For more information and to contact the ASBL: <https://www.tseasbl.be/>

Source: www.walfoot.be